

Skip to main content r/GooglePixel Search in r/GooglePixel

Create

r/GooglePixel • 3d ago
nxnxxshi

Disappointment

i have been using a Samsung phone for a very long time but it died on me so I decided to switch to Pixel cuz I hear it has better software optimizations and is all around a good phone. Got a Pixel 7 Pro cuz I'm low on funds currently. This is it works really well, is really smooth and takes great pictures. Battery is also pretty good. The thing is so many features are not there like a native app lock, separate audio, the ability to do simple things like make collections my default tab in Photos. Remove recent files or even the categories in Files and a few things here and there. it's so frustrating and genuinely breaks my heart. Some people would say these are not necessary but the whole reason I use android phones is for control and I have to give my phone out to other people often and there is no way to prevent snooping, seeing what I did recently, seeing what I downloaded recently even though i tried ways to hide that content. All in all I'm very disappointed. Would stick to it till I get the chance to switch

0

11

ShareBeatwriting • Promoted

IELTS 작문 온라인 채점기 - 무료로 시도

Learn Morebeatwriting.comJoin the conversationSort by: Best Search CommentsSeatSix • 3d ago

Top 1% Commenter

All of those things are Samsung specific. There is no universal Android. Each manufacturer makes their own flavor. It sounds like you are used to (and probably prefer) Samsung.

5

Reply

nxnxxshi OP • 3d ago

No I feel like these are things that should probably be a part of Pixel. It doesn't make sense that someone would take what you made and make it more customisable while the people who stick with you use the bare minimum

DeliMcPickles • 3d ago

Skip to main contentCreatenxnxxshi OP • 3d ago

Heard good things about the pixel and like I said I do see them. It's just that so much isn't there

_Psilo_ • 3d ago

You know you can use a Secure Folder for files, and put apps in a Private Space? Doesn't that work for you?

nxnxxshi OP • 3d ago

See on something like iPhone you can just lock an app and every time to want to open it you just use a passcode or something. I'm not sure how that was implemented on Samsung cuz I never found the need for it but Private Space is overkill. This is an app I want to use regularly and I just don't want to content of certain folders in my downloads to be seeing to easily just because Files is weird like that supercoolusername_1 • 3h ago

Pixel 9a

So if you have no need for app lock, why is it disappointing it's not on Puxel?

DrKrFfXx • 3d ago

Recent changes to Photos annoy the hell out of me.

Collections WAS the default view.

nxnxxshi OP • 3d ago

There is so many other things that really don't make sense to me using this. Can't even double tap to turn off the screen, no MiraCast. I guess I was a fool to think these were standard items. There is significantly less customization on the phone made by the people who made Android and it makes no sense

_Psilo_ • 3d ago

It does make sense if you know that OneUi is basically Samsung taking Android and adding their own stuff to it.

armando_rod • 3d ago

Pixel 10 Pro XL

Top 1% Poster

Collection was never the default view, never. Unless you use the app without an account

Create

Reddit Rules Privacy Policy User Agreement Accessibility Reddit, Inc. © 2026. All rights reserved.