Never change Google

Thank you so much for making us sign up for your newsletter and rewarding us with 20€ coupons in Europe for 1300€ phones. I'm about to save 0.0001% while the Americans are calculating how to actually profit and earn money from buying your new phones. Giving me major flashbacks from the time I pre-ordered my 7 pro, I'm glad to see nothing's changed.

Like seriously, what even is the point? It's borderline insulting. Either give everyone the same coupons or don't even bother. It pisses me off so much I'm about to switch to Apple or Samsung and replace the shit load of Google devices I own with something else.

I'm in the USA and received a generic introducing email with no discount code at all. 🤔. Starting to wonder if my Google account isn't flagged for USA or something.

I signed up for pre-order. Got a $100 coupon

Yep me too, got generic email at the end of the Google event, with no coupon. Some people aren't worthy of it sadly even if you signed into your Google account on the Google store page like everyone else who pressed the "subscribe and save" button.

Some people got $200 & $150 coupons too. Region or other account specifics probably have something to do with it sadly. Possible that I've just bought too much off Google Store in the past, who knows 🤔

Got £150, weird that they are different by region. Maybe they know i'm a dirty s22 owner!

Same as you. Incredibly disappointed. I signed up, also a Super fan, have YouTube premium, 2tb Google One, and got.... A generic email.

Poppyspy • 6mo ago

A lot of people were calling customer service yesterday about it, so I'll wait a few days to see if they find it in their heart to address the situation... Some people say there was a restriction on your email/account if already subscribed to prior Google store news letters. Whatever the reasoning, Google is really lame to treat anyone enthusiastic about their products differently. I know they had issues with prior promotions that they fixed, so I'll cross my fingers for now.

There are zero americans profiting and earning money from these new phones

Equivalent_Reason_27 • 6mo ago

I will say I just ordered the 10 (My first Pixel) because of the deals I was able to stack to get it.

They valued my current iPhone 13 Pro 128GB at $450 opposed to BB's $365. And like OP sorta mentioned, I signed up for a promotional email last week and because of that I got another $100 coupon to use. And on top of all that, they're offering the $100 google store money or whatever it's called.

I can see OPs frustration

wiltony • 6mo ago

Same! $100 off, $600 for my P9PXL, $200 store credit.

Still not jumping. There's almost no difference between my 9 and a 10 besides the processor from what I can see.

paparige • 6mo ago

Same boat, same deal...I'm keeping the 9 pro XL. It was a big upgrade over my 7, but I don't see the upgrade value here

...out of a new phone, but no pro.

It's called hyperbole because of frustration over a sense of unfairness. Either that or they expect to at least get €100 for signing up for an email newsletter. 🤔

Mr_X004 • 6mo ago

I'm making $55 in store credit to upgrade from 9 Pro to 10 Pro

Pixel 10 Pro XL

And AT&T is giving you a free Galaxy Z Flip 7, and that's without a trade-in. So what's your point?

If it's that these phones suck before the first user has one in their hands, then you're just trolling. And doing a bad job of it at that.

Jesus Christ, this sub sucks. They could've stuck a Snapdragon 8 Elite in the phones and you all would find something to bitch about. Some people just aren't happy unless they're unhappy. Sheesh.

SteveBored • 6mo ago

Yeah God forbid we want a top tier cpu in a $1200 phone

We do not have any deals also in Romania, only fake ones. Like trade in for apple and Samsung only or behind a carrier pay wall. Please submit a ticket to Google, maybe they will do something about this

Pixel 8 Pro

At least you get Google store... In Croatia only way to buy pixel is through 3rd party which doesnt have discounts or even lower prices with time. They sell pixel 9 at its launch price.

No trade in for me

zvonko2507 • 6mo ago • Edited 6mo ago

You can get it from amazon.de, you just need to opt for expedited shipping, do NOT choose free delivery because you simply wont get it at all (ask me how I know 🤔) even if it is available and shows a possible delivery date. BUT, right now 10 pro 256gb is 1260 eur (because 25% Croatia VAT instead 19% Germany) + delivery 30+ eur. Great deal, right? For example 9 pro is not even available new, only used at eye watering 1090 eur, and all that for an "ACCEPTABLE condition" used phone 😂😂 Pozdrav i sretno :)

Same struggles here. But I buy through German Google store and mailboxde 🇩🇪 always full price, ofc. No deals for us peasants.

rogervn • 6mo ago

Wait until you see that some of the AI features, that are the only thing the phone is expected to excel compared to the competition, will not be available in your region.

Gottedm3 • 6mo ago

Be glad, Apple doesn't give it at all. If you want discounts go to Samsung and the pixel 9 pro prices are halved and your not missing much so just get that 2nd hand

the_ebastler • 6mo ago • Edited 6mo ago

I signed up weeks ago, didn't get shit. Also, my damn phone is not in the trade-in list. Predecessor is there, successor is there, mine? Nope. Thanks google. I was really excited about this phone, but with 0 benefits they can keep the damn thing until market prices fall below MSRP.

EDIT: I contacted google, they said the vouchers will be rolled out in waves. Those of us who registered will get theirs eventually.

I thought that too, but then i'm confused with how this 441€ works. I have some questions, if I may. Will that be returned as Google Store Credits? Because it states that value will be determined after inspection. So I pay 1099€ now and after inspection they back back whatever is worth?

Sorry for asking these questions. First time doing a trade in.

At least you have a healthcare system. Rather have you know health care guaranteed completely separate from employment than having cheaper pixels

faizalmzain • 6mo ago

in malaysia, for pre order you pay base price with free storage upgrade that means for pixel pro 10, you pay for 128gb variant but you will get 256GB one, in fact you cannot order 128GB variant at launch.

some telcos offer free pixelsnap case and pixelsnap charger with stand.

Yes, frankly, resuming old pixels is weird. I have a P7PRO: trade-in €441 And in my drawer I had an old Pixel 3 XL: trade-in for €302. 🤔

So I changed the pixel 3 (for a difference of €139), I prefer to keep my P7PRO in case of breakdown.

You are saving more than 15,000 times as much as you claim. It's not 0.00001% it's 1.5%.

Some-Culture9623 • 6mo ago

I'm in Estonia and the official seller here has a launch code that you can use (googlepixel) to get 150€ off the 1300€ price tag.

Skip to main contentCreate

I'm still taking the opportunity to get the 9 Pro, which is still considerably cheaper.

childroid • 6mo ago

Pixel 5

Inconsistency can be annoying, but 20/1300 is 1.5%, not 0.0001%.

Substantial? No, but I don't think anyone would be complaining about a 1.5% discount on launch day of the Switch 2. Or a car. Or a Mac. Or an iPhone.

Amazon is currently offering a $200 gift card alongside a Pixel 10 purchase. Your carrier may have other deals. Your current phone likely has a trade-in value. Lots of options, friend.

rabbitfighter88 • 6mo ago

Did they really "make" OP to sign up? Or did they suggest? Words matter.

Bummer. But if 20€ isn't that much and worthless, would you mind sending it to me? ;-)

Not worth upgrading my Pixel9pxl for a few years, at least.

Also, don't think apple will give any discounts/coupons. Have some cheese with the whine.

(rubbing my hands and waiting for down votes).

MetalFatigue82 • 6mo ago

In Portugal they are giving 300eur if you buy one of the pros in Google store credit. I don't receive newsletter, so I don't know if they also sent a discount code.

Besides that there is a 75eur. Discount on PBP2 if you buy them together with one of new phones and 1 year of Google one AI pro.

I think, all considered is a sweet deal. Last year they just gave a discount on PBP2. And on the 8 pro (the one I have) they gave only a free PBP1 or a discount on PW2.

I'm over here still waiting for Google to sell the phone in my country. Can't even order the phone or open Google store site without being notified that Google isn't in my country and I should get the fuck out of the site. I don't want a coupon or a discount, just the ability to actually order the phone!

I still hate samsung and Apple so I'm forced to stick with Pixel since it's the only phone I care about, but I'm not happy with how Google treats anyone that isn't from the US. It's really insulting
