Pixel 9 Pro

It's out in my region (east Asia)

Pixel 10 Pro XL

You think it fixed the new wifi and Bluetooth issues? I have remained on December update just because of this

KTGR_lightner • 6d ago

Pixel 9 Pro

I have yet to press the update, also I didn't have the wifi/Bluetooth issues after the December update.

But I've seen one person reported that they're facing a battery drainage. (No further detail tho)

You think i should try? I have a P10PXL and i live in Europe.

Personally, I'd like to wait for more reports then pressing the update in the first place. That's my preference, so it's up to you.

Pixel 10 Pro

No it only contains one change - VDU security fix CVE-2026-0106. No functional changes. The March update is likely to be a big feature drop. Sourced: Pixel Update Bulletin, Tech Advisor, Android Authority.

Same here January update fucked up my wifi hoping for February update fix it

turtle_snacks • 7d ago

Is it safe to install the January update yet? Or will it brick my WiFi and Bluetooth?

Skip to main content+ Create

It cooked my pixel 8 pro. 🙄 I wouldn't risk it lol Hoping the February update fixes it

Pixel 10 Pro

The Feb update only contains a security patch for VDU.

Mine is abruptly worse. I barely use it at work so after my battery is usually 80+, but it's been 30 the last two days. There doesn't seem to be an app suddenly draining it.

Anyone else's battery life really bad now? I have a pixel 10 pro xl and by the time it's 10 o'clock it's at 30 percent. I charge to 80 but it makes no sense it used to last me the whole day.

Have you looked at what apps might drain your battery that much?

Dense-Result-1169 • 8d ago

Yeah I check it's apps doing hella background stuff when I sleep overnight bc I forget the close them. It said I haven't changed my phone properly since Friday which is impossible but idk a message "Connected but not charging" and it randomly starts working again the next day. On other instances it just rapidly alternates between connected and disconnected. The battery drain is pretty bad too for almost a couple of months. I'm honestly disappointed because I only got this phone 2 years back.

Create

In battery diagnostics it is saying that battery exceeded charge cycles and needs replacement.

So what do I do now? Just buy a new phone?

My battery has been insane. It's not consistently terrible, but sometimes it just crashes. Especially once it gets lowish. It will hit 20% and literally drain a percent per second. It's insane. In 43 minutes I went from 48% to 0%. Highest draining app was Balatro (29% in 3 minutes of screen time).

Just bought a P10. Should I just avoid updating it for a while?

Hi,

I have been using a pixel 8 for almost 2 years now. I bought a hazel pixel 8 with an official pink cover and I just love how it looks. Unfortunately due to a drop by me the case broke and is not usable anymore. I really love how the pink of the case goes with the dark colour of the camera visor. I have been trying to find another case which is similar enough but haven't been able to find one. I checked all online marketplaces in my country (India) and I could only find the gray one. I know this is a long shot but would there be anyone here who can help me source the pink case? Thank you very much.
