What in the hell is google doing?

Since i bought my pixel 9 pro xl it has delayed audio recording on instagram. amazing new phone cant even fix their app compabilities.

Now after android 15 the photos on instagram becomes dark and orange?

What in the hell is google doing???

Pay for a brand new phone on release and its not getting better.

...that can be fixed by me guess, also an app problem...

If people can hear you normally on phone calls then it surely isn't a hardware problem.

it gets fixed when i restart my phone. im pretty sure my hardware is not a problem. my pixel 8 pro was amazing hence why i got this one. but software google has failed. and im sorry but you can only blame apps for some time before it falls on the developer of the phone.

Sure sounds like they didn't optimise their apps for a very popular phone model.

Doesn't matter, all meta/Facebook apps are shit anyways

Never googles fault ay?

I mean even on discord people my audio jumps up and down. being very inconsistent. im guessing discord is also shit?

kaj-me-citas • 1y ago

Hmm, then it may be... Still sounds like a software issue so shit of I care.

Sadra32 OP • 1y ago

yea my point. its software. just a shame. its hard to work on warranty if its software use an apple device if all you do is mindlessly scroll meta products not really you just see what I'm complaining about. my last phone was a pixel 8 pro no problems there. but pixel 9 pro xl. problems. What works on it works. i dont need to suck google off cuz they got good features. hate on social media companies. google isnt exactly a non social media themselves. you just hate IOS for some reason

Everyone here is blaming Instagram but in my opinion if this is only a pixel problem or even consistently an android problem, it's a Google issue for making it more difficult for developers to develop bug free apps. It's no secret that app quality in general is way better on iOS and yes I blame Google for that since they own the developer tools and the end to end ecosystem. It's the main thing I hate about my p9 pro xl after switching from iOS.

It's actually easier to develop for Pixel devices
