

Skip to main contentr/GooglePixel ×

Search in r/GooglePixel

Create

r/GooglePixel • 9d ago

GooglePixelMods The Mod Team

...

"Which Pixel should I buy?" Megathread February 2026

Welcome to the new megathread for all of your purchasing decisions. If you need help deciding on which Pixel you should get, this is the best place to ask. All posts outside of this megathread will be removed as per Rule 9.

This post will be replaced on the 1st of each month at 10:00 UTC. If the month is incorrect, search for the latest one here.

To return to the Superthread, click here.

2

9

Share

SDCforAll • Promoted

...

Introducing HummingKit: Open Source software-defined charger and USB-C PD development platform

Sign Upcrowdsupply.com

Thumbnail image:

Introducing
HummingKit: Open
Source software-defined charger and USB-C PD
development platform

Join the conversationSort by: New (Default) ▾

Search Comments

Mishqueen1 • 4d ago

Hello! I need a new phone, but I have some rare disability accommodations to consider. I hoping to figure out which Pixel phone models are an option for me. I'm open to prior models as long as they aren't functionally obsolete; I don't need the latest and greatest.

I have 2 features I must have on a phone, due to my brain injury. Sounds passing through speakers give me seizures, so I need specific captioning and muting settings. They are hard to find, but pixel is one of the lines more likely to have them. Would you be willing to tell me your pixel model, and whether it has these two features, please?

1. Mute All Sounds function--This is different from simply putting all 4 volumes on mute manually or with a master switch. When all are on mute, some apps override the mute because they assume we must want sound for that app, such as video chat apps. But I need to be able to use a captioned video chat without any sound coming out. The Mute All function cannot be overridden by any app. When I was shopping for phones last time, I think the Pixel 3 or 4 did have it? But many other makes/models of phones used to have it and discontinued it in their new models.

Skip to main contentCreate

All Sounds function turned on, so I know it's not just the Android os captioning the sound playing. The Android OS alone does not meet my need, because it has to work when my entire phone is on mute.

Caveat: I have had my current phone for 4-5 years, so I understand some features may have improved or been discontinued, including in Android os.

Sakaiei_the_chinless • 6d ago

I currently have an iPhone 14 and have recently swapped to google fi so those specials are available too me. Should I go with a pixel 10 which is 500 up front but payed back via a rebate over 24 months or get a pixel 8 refurbished. The upfront price for the 10 is just a little higher to what I what to pay and the pixel 8 seems like a more solid phone.

hoshinoumi • 7d ago

I own a 6 year old Xiaomi phone (midrange-ish) and my intention is for this Pixel to last another 6 years. I'm looking to buy Amazon "like new" so here's my question: 9 pro 256gb €761 8 pro 256gb €530

1. Is the difference in price worth it?
2. Is 256gb mandatory? After 6 years, my 64gb of memory have been difficult to handle

SniperGuy42 • 7d ago

Ordered a Pixel 10 to upgrade from my 8a but curious about the camera being possibly worse? I can't seem to find any comparisons. I imagine it won't be too noticeable?

Various_Pay4046 • 8d ago

Pixel 9 or 9 Pro/XL as the software on those devices is mature at this point

alex_aaa789 • 8d ago

I am currently using Galaxy S22, but it is getting slow and full, and I am looking for an upgrade before going to concerts in March. I would like to be able to film with at least 5x telephoto.

The new S26 seem to be using the original camera with only 3x telephoto, and it is already too late when the phone comes out (also the Ultra is too big for me).

Is $1019 on Amazon a good price for the Pixel 10 Pro 512GB? I am living in a country that isn't officially supported, so trade-ins and etc are out of question, and I am afraid the functions might not be working (couldn't find my country in whereisenabled)

Create

SimilarEconomics3428 • 9d ago

Is it worth buying the pixel 7 Pro which will last for 22 or 23 more months of updates I'm coming from the Samsung galaxy a16 4G lots of stuttering lots of lag I just want a better phone than I have now and I don't have much money.

Software_Token • 8d ago

Go for OnePlus Nord series instead.